St Petersburg: Cultural Capital of Russia

The Twelve Collegia is considered to be the main University building. This 18-century building is a fine example of the Petrine Baroque style set in the heart of St Petersburg — the city which truly deserves the name of the Cultural Capital of Russia.

St Petersburg is one of the largest educational centre in Russia, a combination of architecture of Rome, Venice, and Amsterdam. It has hustle and bustle of the state-of-the-art megalopolises and is rich in cultural heritage. Central streets are filled with voices in different languages of the world and Orthodox churches sit side by side with Catholic chapels, Muslim mosques and Buddhist temples.

In 2017 the World Travel Awards recognised St Petersburg as Europe's Leading City Destination. The city's historical centre and suburban palace and park ensembles, namely Pushkin, Pavlovsk, Gatchina, Peterhof, and Strelna, are included in the UNESCO World Heritage List.

Public Transport

Like any other European city, St Petersburg has a well-developed public transportation network. Wherever you choose to go, any part of the city will be reachable by buses, trolleybuses or trams. The stops of public transport are well signposted and each stop gives information about destinations (the letter A denotes buses, the letter T denotes trams and trolleybuses). Public transport operates from 5.30 to 12.00 a.m.

St Petersburg public transport portal

Metro is often the most convenient way to travel in the city. The network operates five lines from 5.30 to 0.45 a.m. Each station has its own opening and closing times. On special public holidays the metro is open 24 hours. On weekend nights there is a special night bus service which operates the same routes as the metro lines

Sport, creative arts and hobbies

Staying with SPbU is more than just studying. The University offers a whole range of opportunities to those seeking unique versatile experience.

- ✓ For sports enthusiasts and those willing to take part in international sporting events as a member of the University team, for example, a basketball team, SPbU offers a choice of 21 sports clubs to suit your needs.
- ✓ If you have an innovative idea for a start-up or want to voice your opinion on international policy issues, feel free to join the SPbU Start-Up competition or UN and EU international student models.

You can also choose among several SPbU artistic societies:

- play in a theater
- sing in a choir
- publish a magazine
- attend dancing classes

We have a dynamic volunteer community, with Green Campus being one of the successful environmental projects. Or join the SPbU Student Council to realise your leadership potential. Sports competitions, conferences, concerts, parties and other exciting events are an integral part of SPbU student life

At St Petersburg University we are trying to facilitate a quick and smooth integration of international students into a new environment. When you arrive in St Petersburg, you can have a Russian-speaking friend — a buddy, who will meet you at the airport, help with administrative issues and give tips about St Petersburg life. During the Introduction Week you will meet other students, take part in a range of events introducing you to the city and the University.

Besides, you can join a language tandem project or one of the discussion clubs. You may also like to go on a trip or visit an event organised by the International Students' Club.
